Welcome to the Office of Interdisciplinary Graduate Programs Newsletter!

After a short break, the Office of Interdisciplinary Graduate Programs (OIGP) newsletter is back! We are going to be transitioning from a bi-monthly release format to releasing one per semester! Keep an eye out for OIGP social events, news, and updates that will be taking place in the Spring. Some upcoming events and deadlines can be found by reading on, but you can also follow us on social media to stay even more up to date with news and events. You can find our social media handles at the end of the newsletter. In this issue, we highlight the 2023 OIGP Spring Reception, the recipients of our OIGP Travel Award, and important dates. OIGP is also happy to announce the Spring 2023 lineup for the Social Justice Seminar Series. We hope that you enjoy this issue and have a great winter recess!

Boiler up!

Fall 2022 Highlights

Boilermaker Special and Kona Ice

In August, we here at OIGP welcomed our interdisciplinary students back to campus with snacks from Kona Ice and ride on the Boilermaker Special. Keep an eye on our social media for upcoming Spring events!

“Being able to network with and get feedback from others in my field is an important step in strengthening my research and expanding the knowledge that I bring to my interdisciplinary graduate program.”

-Rebecca-Eli Long

“One of the most gratifying aspects was being able to network with students and presenters with common research interests [...] At the end of the day, I was able to forge new connections and renew older acquaintances that will be helpful in further research projects, as well as job searching.”

-Clairissa Corpstein

“I was proud to represent Purdue University and my lab, while presenting our exciting new cellular injury model [...] I was able to speak with industry leaders, while learning new, state-of-the-art techniques that I hope to incorporate into my current studies! Boiler up!”

-Edmond Rogers
