Speaker

Baylee Neff, Baylee is the Director of Entrepreneurial Talent for the Purdue Foundry where she has the pleasure of making connections for Purdue Start-Up Founders. She is a recent graduate from Purdue University with a degree in in Agribusiness Management and a Certificate in Entrepreneurship. Her passion for entrepreneurship started at a young age while growing up in a family lawn care company in Central Indiana.

David Torres, Ph.D. David is ExpiWell's CEO and responsible for corporate strategy, product vision, and overall business development. He has more than 15 years of business development and study design experience, delivering and executing innovative growth initiatives. David started his career as a sales leader within the recruiting industry at one of the largest recruiting firms in the country. Searching for a scientific understanding of how organizations flourished, he pursued his academic career and received his PhD in Organizational Communication from Purdue University. He also received his MA from Marquette University and BS in Selling and Sales Management from Purdue University.
