

Professional Development Workshops and Keynote

Speaker: Alaina G. Levine

Date: NOV 30, 2016

Alaina G. Levine is an award-winning entrepreneur, career consultant, science journalist, professional speaker and corporate comedian. Her new book, Networking for Nerds, was published by Wiley, and beat out Einstein (really!) for the honor of being named one of the Top 5 Books of 2015 by Physics Today Magazine. @AlaianG.Levine

Agenda:

WORKSHOPS (8am to 4pm at Birck Nanotechnology Center Rm 2001):

8:00 – 9:30am: Breakfast with women in science and engineering, Informal discussion on work-life balance issues, two-body challenges and combating sexual harassment, Open Q and A

10:00 – 11:00am: Leveraging Social Media for Networking and Career Advancement

11:00 – 12:00pm: Professional Etiquette for Science and Engineering Professionals: Perception = Truth

12:00 – 1:00pm: Lunch with postdocs and grad students: Entrepreneurship for Science and Engineering Professionals: Tech Entrepreneurship 101, Open Q and A and discussion- bring your questions!

2:00 – 3:00pm: Negotiation Strategy and Tactics

3:00 – 4:00pm: Innovation, Growth, and Advancement through the Diversity of Ideas

KEYNOTE (venue: Fowler Hall in Stewart Center from 5-6pm)

5-6pm: Networking for Nerds: How to Land (or Create) Your Dream Job!

6-6:30pm: Book-signing event for the book (Networking for Nerds)