

Gateway to a Career in Infrastructure

Tuesday, September 17th, 2024

- 5:30-6pm - Networking
- 6-7pm - Panel

Ashurst Office - 18th Floor:

55 Hudson Yards, New York, NY
10001 – Virtual option available

Join Young Professionals in Infrastructure with our esteemed panelists to explore the state of U.S. infrastructure policy in 2024, the Gateway Program and career paths in the infrastructure field:

KEY TOPICS

2024 backdrop of infrastructure policy in the US, including the Chevron / Loper Bright ruling & the $1.2 trillion Infrastructure Investment & Jobs Act

Detailed analysis of the Gateway Program: a comprehensive rail investment program that will improve reliability, resiliency and redundancy while creating new capacity for a critical section of the Northeast Corridor

How to build a career in infrastructure and promising professions within the space

SPEAKER PANEL OVERVIEW

Moderator: Betty Cerini will be moderating our panel, and is the Co-Head of Projects, Americas practice at Ashurst.

Tianyi Yang

Tianyi Yang is a financial & commercial advisor for the gateway project since 2019 at EY Infrastructure Advisors & a board member of YPI.

Julius Chang

Julius Chang is a senior lecturer in civil engineering at Columbia University, where he teaches graduate and undergraduate courses in construction engineering and management. He is a Project Controls Lead at HDR, a leading consulting engineering firm.

Pat Foye

Pat Foye is an operating partner at Ardian, and was formerly the MTA Chairman and PANYNJ Executive Director.

Jee Mee Kim

Jee Mee Kim is a City Executive at Arcadis, the senior community relations manager for Gateway Development Commission, & is an adjunct assistant professor at NYU for transportation planning.

In-Person Registration:

Virtual Registration:

