

How can Information Help Us Make Healthier Choices?

An Interdisciplinary, Community-based Conversation about Food and Nutrition

Wednesday, November 5th, 2014

Graduate Student Center, Room 105A

504 Northwestern Ave. Purdue University

1:30-2:20 Panel Discussion

- Dr. Lalatendu Archaya, Assistant Professor of Consumer Science, Purdue University
- Gary Burniske, Managing Director, Purdue Center for Global Food Security
- Jodee Ellett, Local Foods Coordinator, Purdue University
- Melissa Hehmann, Registered Dietitian, Meijer Grocery Stores
- Jim Tyner, Food Service Director, West Lafayette School Corporation

2:30-3:20 Interactive Workshop

- Brainstorm innovative collaborations to build a healthier community

Light refreshments to follow

Please click here to register.

ELISS is co-sponsored by The Purdue Office of the Provost and The Argosy Foundation and hosted at Purdue by the Office of Interdisciplinary Graduate Programs.

PURDUE
THE GRADUATE SCHOOL
OFFICE OF INTERDISCIPLINARY
GRADUATE PROGRAMS