

NSF

Convergence Accelerator Program

WORKSHOP

Open to: University researchers and administrators, industry, not-for-profits, and government entities

The new NSF- wide Convergence Accelerator

is an exciting pilot program for high-risk, exploratory, and use-inspired research by teams of multiple stakeholders (industry, academic, not-for-profits, and government entities). This novel two-phase program ($1M for 9 months and $5M for 2 years) includes rapid award selection by program officers.

Bring potential partners and learn more from Douglas Maughan in preparation for a soon-to-be-released solicitation.
