

The Graduate School Cares!

New this year is the Office of Graduate Assistance and Conflict Resolution (OGACR), which provides a safe and secure university environment for graduate students, faculty, post-docs and staff to seek information, garner advice and request assistance for the effective resolution of conflict. The office provides ombuds services, as well as facilitative mediation to help advance the academic success of all involved in graduate education, related research, and scholarly endeavors.

For more info: <https://www.purdue.edu/gradschool/student/ogacr/>

The Graduate School Cares!

New this year is the Office of Graduate Assistance and Conflict Resolution (OGACR), which provides a safe and secure university environment for graduate students, faculty, post-docs and staff to seek information, garner advice and request assistance for the effective resolution of conflict. The office provides ombuds services, as well as facilitative mediation to help advance the academic success of all involved in graduate education, related research, and scholarly endeavors.

For more info: <https://www.purdue.edu/gradschool/student/ogacr/>